Forage Center Welcomes New Board Members

ROCKVILLE, MD – The Forage Center for Peacebuilding and Humanitarian Education, Inc., a 501c3 not for profit entity, is proud to announce that Kathryn Rzeszut and Matt Collette have been appointed as members of the board of directors. Matt Collette was appointed for a three year term and Kathryn Rzeszut for a two year term.

Matt Collette is currently a partner at Massey & Gail LLP after serving for many years as Deputy Director of the Appellate Staff of the Civil Division at the United States Department of Justice and Senior Counsel to the Associate Attorney General.

Kathryn Rzeszut is a conflict and stabilisation specialist and holds the position of Senior Expert MEL at Integrity Global. She was previously a Research Fellow at the University of York's Post-war Reconstruction & Development Unit (PRDU).

The Board thanks Abigail Slenski for her three years of service as secretary for the Forage Center Board of Directors. She brought insight and practicality from her own international experience to the Forage Center. The Forage Center wishes her the best in all her future endeavours. Commenting on Abigail's service, Forage Center president David J. Smith said: "Abigail has brought considerable 'real life' insight to the work on humanitarian service to our work. She has made important contributions in connecting us with funding. We will miss her service, but she will continue to support our work in other ways."

The Forage Center for Peacebuilding and Humanitarian Education, Inc. is named for Dr. Paul Forage who passed away in 2015. Dr. Forage was a nationally and internationally known expert in the field of humanitarian and peacebuilding education and training, and is the inspiration behind the organization that now bears his name.
